In His Service

The Grace Hospital

Foreword

The Silver Cross has long been the traditional symbol of the Grace Hospital School of Nursing. To us it represents loyalty and high principles of conduct and service. May this tenth volume of the Silver Cross serve as a reminder of the noble qualities of this symbol and a source of cherished school memories.

Dedication

We, the Senior Class, dedicate this 1962

Silver Cross to Miss Berryhill

our friend and our example.

We esteem her for her character and leadership; we admire her for her patience and understanding; we honor her for her truly dedicated service to her profession; and we thank her for her inspiration.

Miss Myrtle Berryhill

Our School History

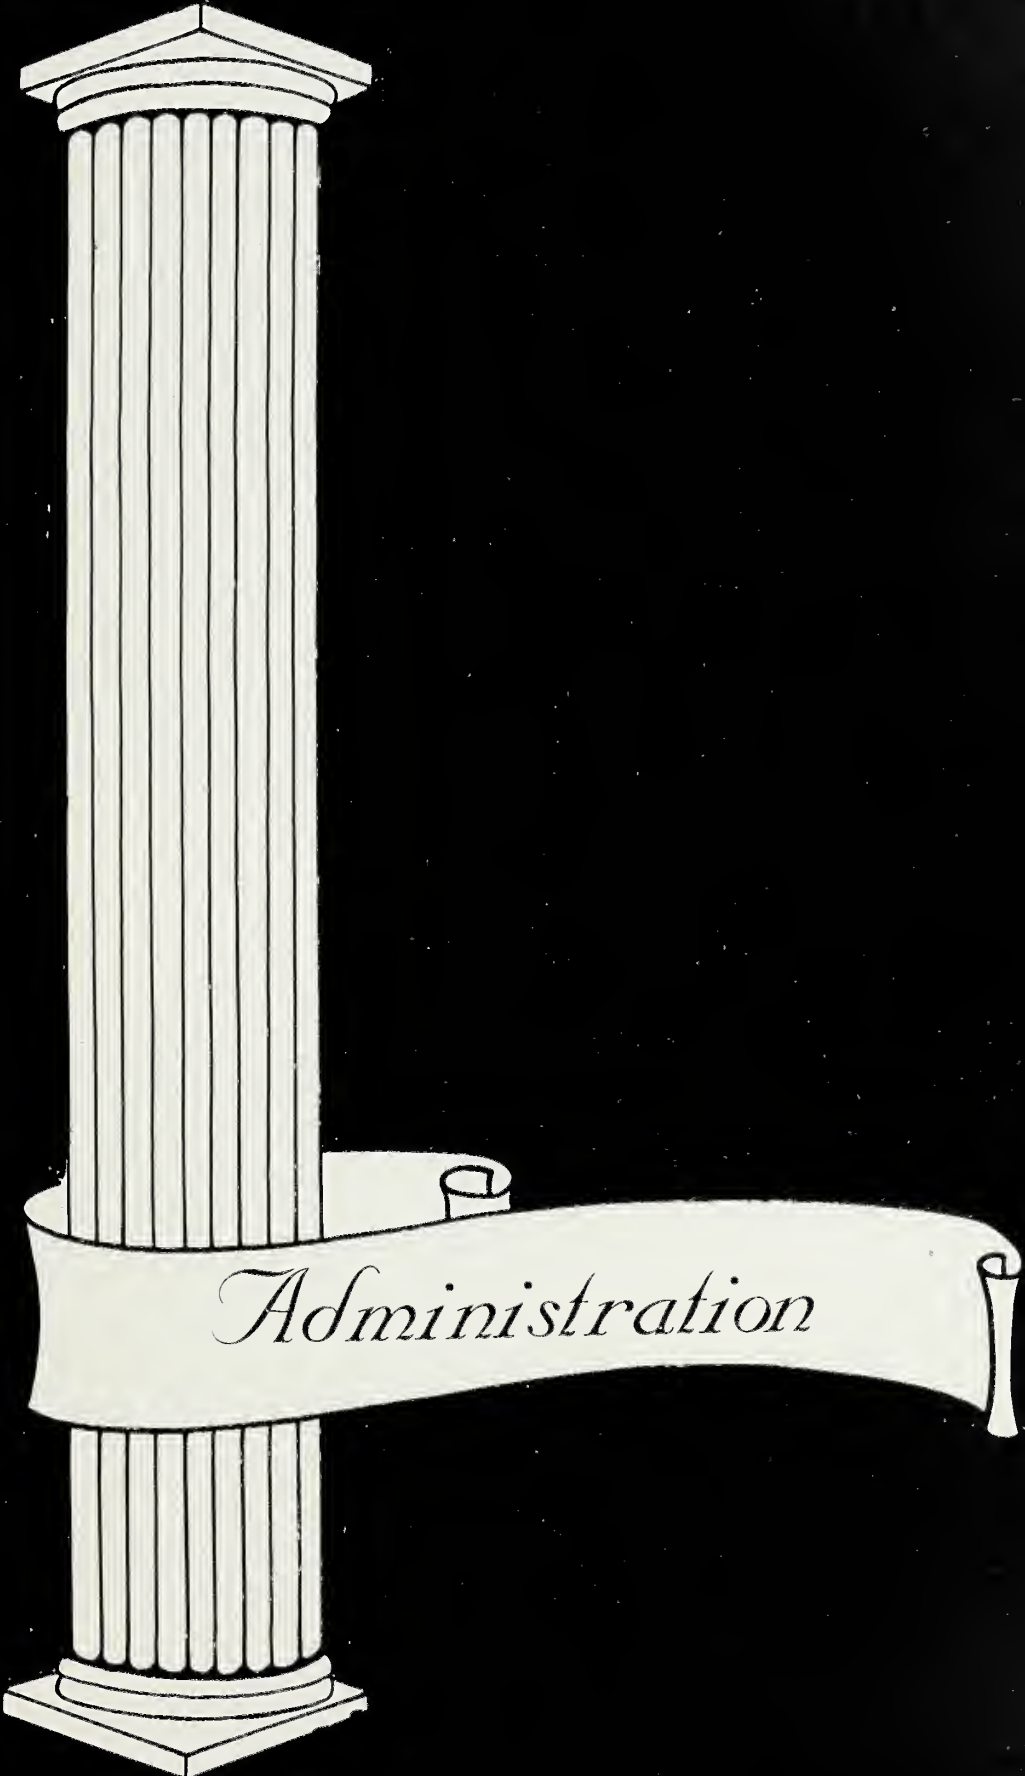

In 1906 a small hospital having seventeen beds was opened for patients in Morganton, North Carolina. It was called "Grace" in honor of a daughter who was lost by the hospital's founder and his wife, Rev. and Mr. Walter Hughson.

Four years later The Grace Hospital School of Nursing was established and Miss Maria P. Allen, R.N., graduate of Protestant Mission Hospital in Philadelphia, was the first Director of Nurses. The first graduating class consisted of one member, Miss Lola Wilson, who remained with Grace Hospital for several years and was instrumental in organizing the Alumnae Association in 1921.

Since the School of Nursing has been in existence there have been approximately 325 graduates who have filled positions of responsibility in all nursing fields.

Two years ago the School of Nursing began an affiliating program with Lenoir-Rhyne College in Hickory, North Carolina, thus changing the status from a diploma to a collegiate level.

Grace Hospital School of Nursing is an accredited school. Its graduates are eligible for examination by the North Carolina State Board of Nurse Registration and Nursing Education and for registration by reciprocity in nearly all of the other states in the U.S.

Administration

The founders of our hospital and our school left a great heritage and throughout the years many persons have rendered dedicated service to support these high ideals.

Realizing the value of these contributions now and their significance for us in the future, we wish to recognize Administration for their sincere interest and weariless efforts to promote these standards.

OUR SCHOOL SONG

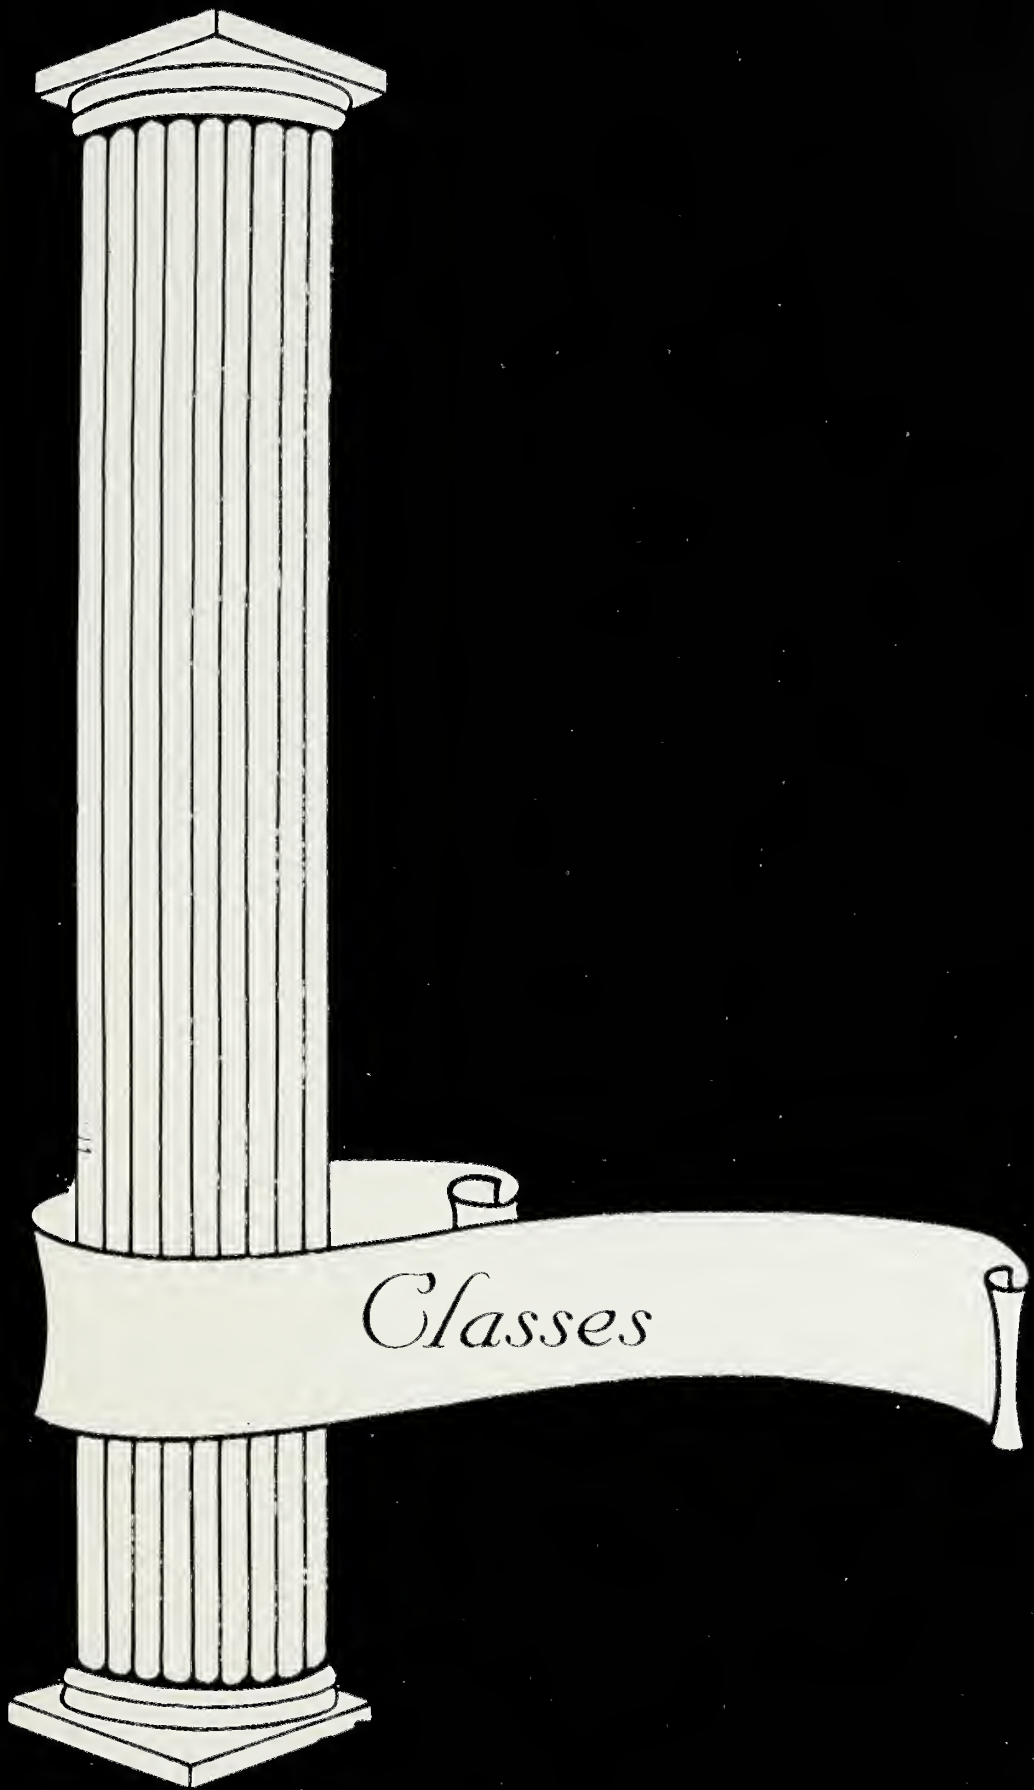

We are the nurses of G. H.
 We work and play and then
 We all join hands and pledge our hearts
 And start to work again.
 Each day we start off with a smile
 And in our hearts we're gay,
 We'll march through life a triumph sure
 And be happy all the way.

A RAH, RAH, RAH
 A RAH, RAH, RAH
 All Hail to dear G.H.
 A RAY, RAY, RAY
 A RAY, RAY, RAY
 Best in the U.S.A.

Even though the years may roll around
 And scattered far we be We'll hold in mind our love for you,
 Peace, Faith, and Loyalty.
 So here's to you, our dear G. H.
 Our pride, our joy, so true.
 Forever more we'll sing your praise
 We owe so much to you.

Activities

When'er a noble deed is wrought
When'er is spoken a noble thought,
Our hearts, in glad surprise,
To higher levels rise.

The tidal wave of deeper souls
Into our inmost being rolls,
And lifts us unaware
Out of all meaner cares.

Honor to those whose words or deed
Thus help us in our daily needs,
And by their overflow
Raise us from what is low!

Thus thought I, as by night I read
Of the great army of the dead,
The trenches cold and damp,
The starved and frozen camp.

The wounded from the battle-plain
In dreary hospitals of pain,
The cheerless corridors,
The cold and stony floors.

Lo! in that house of misery
A lady with a lamp I see
Pass through the glimmering gloom,
And flit from room to room.

And slow, as in a dream of bliss
The speechless sufferers turns to kiss
Her shadow, as it falls
Upon the darkening walls.

As if a door in heaven should be Opened and then closed suddenly,
The vision came and went,
The light shown and was spent.

On England's annals, through the long Hereafter of her speech and song,
That light its rays shall cast
From portals of the past.

A lady with a lamp shall stand
In the great history of the land.
A noble type of good,
Heroic womanhood.

Nor even shall be wanting here
The palm, the lily and the spear,
The symbols that of yore
Saint Filomena bore.

Christmas Dance

Is not religion all deeds and all reflection,
And that which is neither deed nor reflection, but a wonder and a surprise ever springing in the soul, even while the hands hew the stone or tend the loom?

Who can separate his faith from his actions,
or his belief from his occupations?

Who can spread his hours before him, saying, "This for God and this for myself;
This for my soul, and this other for my body?"

Your daily life is your temple and your religion.

Whenever you enter into it take with you your all.

Take the plough and the forge and the mallet and the lute,

The things you have fashioned in necessity or for delight.

For in revery you cannot rise above your achievements nor fall lower than your failures.

And take with you all men:

For in adoration you cannot fly higher than their hopes nor humble yourself lower than their despair.

LAUNDRY

Sylvia Brown is now called Commander Brown after her world-wide recognition gained when she became the first space nurse. Judy, chief orthopedic nurse at George Washington University, is trying to correct some of those shattered hips resulting from her teaching that old-fashioned dance, "The Twist". The dignified lady you see leaving the ship is none other than Gail D, returning from her annual inspection tour of Europe with hubby and poodles. Jeannie sure enough married an FBI agent and is cleverly stealing his fame solving international sabotage secrets. Janice, it seems, gave up nursing for the domestic life. She is Executive Chief Cook and Bottle Washer for husband and eleven kids.
Loretta finally hit the jack-pot. She threw away her rags to become a wealthy educator of the Old Maid Honorary Society and is presently engaged in her much-loved hobby, bird-watching. Becky, now listed as one of the ten Most Outstanding women in the U. S., accepts mildly her recognition as "pioneer" in nursing. Anne, who recently returned from the Indian Reservation, is presenting her views and problems to Congress. Shirley has certainly gained fame for her undying efforts to reconstruct the swamp-lands of our country into the ideal playground for all the neglected children.
Gail Y, recently obtained government approval to nurse in the foreign countries caring for all their richest rulers. Hazel, we hear, is working diligently in the jungles of Africa performing miraculous surgery on the natives with only the crudest of instruments and equip-
